School Development Planning/School Improvement Planning Linked to the School Budget The importance of having a coherent School Development Plan/ School Improvement Plan linked to budget, staffing and staff development needs can sometimes be like looking for a needle in a haystack. Having an "outside" perspective is something that we can offer. With years of recent Headship experience our associates understand the need for support without an agenda (hidden or otherwise!). The utilisation of budgets to support teaching and learning whilst developing the skills of your staff (teaching and non-teaching), getting the most out of your school premises and planning for the future, as well as today, are all things that we could support you with.	£500
Making the best of your staff Our associates are very creative thinkers who can often see solutions when there appear to be none. They have adapted timetables, job descriptions and curriculum content to best suit the skills and qualities of staff that in-turn encourage creativity, fun and a love for learning in pupils and the wider school community.	£500

Book Trawls and Moderation and Lesson Observation Working at? Exceeding? Working towards? Where are you regarding book trawls, a necessary evil that can be both time-consuming and divisive? We can support and develop your subject leaders as they under-take book scrutinies for the first time or as part of the regular programme of work scrutiny, we can support leadership teams or be left alone to conduct the book trawls independently. With the recent changes in Y2 and Y6, moderation has become much more complicated. Independent verification can be the thing that you need to support your staff with their judgements. Lesson Observations regularly give school leaders a great insight into what pupils are learning and experiencing within school. Embarking on Lesson Observations for school leaders can be time-consuming and onerous. We have vast experience in observing learning and teaching and supporting staff undertaking lesson observations for the first time. Giving clear, supportive and honest feedback is crucial.	£500
